

STRICT CENSORSHIP

Over Publication of News About Spanish-Moroccan War

MADRID, via Badajos, on the Portuguese frontier, July 23.—The Spanish authorities are exercising a rigorous censorship over the publication of news regarding the war between the Spaniards and the Kabyle tribesmen on the North coast of Morocco. Nothing except official despatches is allowed to be printed and communication by telephone to the provincial newspapers has been stopped. The government considers these measures justified on the ground of military necessity and because of the anti-patriotic campaign being conducted by the liberal and republican press. The entire edition of El País was confiscated today and all the republican clubs were closed.

GENERAL WOOD

Gives Detail of the War Game

Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., chief umpire of the war game, in a communication to the adjutant-general of the states and the District of Columbia, makes his first official announcement in details.

The M. V. M. will be interested to know that, in addition to the field kit, Gen. Wood directs that one mosquito bar be carried by each group of two enlisted men, and each mounted enlisted man be provided with one fore and one hind horse-shoe, fitted.

Twenty rounds of blank ammunition will be carried by each soldier armed with the rifle and 10 rounds of blank ammunition by each person armed with the revolver. Thirty rounds of blank ammunition will be carried in the battalion ammunition carts and 50 rounds by each field piece. Each battery of field artillery will be limited to four guns, four caissons, a battery wagon and forge.

One day's haversack rations will be carried in the haversack, and will be used only when ordered. Rations to cover the period of the journey and one meal of shore will be placed on shipboard for issue. The special field ration will be issued for two-day periods from the established base. One feed of oats will be habitually carried in the nose bag for each mount.

Umpires will wear a broad white band around the hat; ordinaries for uniforms will wear a broad white band around the left arm above the elbow. The headquarters of the Massachusetts Troops will be indicated by a blue banner; the headquarters of the attacking force by a red banner.

The memorandum concludes with several miscellaneous provisions.

Neither steam nor electric railroads will be used for the transportation of troops after midnight, Aug. 11.

After midnight, Aug. 11, all telegraph and telephone lines will be considered destroyed and both beings events will be restricted to the use of those means of communication which actually accompany the respective forces at the opening of the campaign. The getting of information by spies, civilians, or members of the contending forces not in uniform be-

CAPE COD CANAL

Excavation Operations Will be Commenced This Week

BUZZARDS BAY, July 22.—The town of Bourne, having obtained the concession on the Cape Cod Canal, has agreed to begin by the end of next week to assist in the operations of the Kennedy Canal Company, having been granted a franchise by the State Legislature. It was said that the big project, which is now nearing completion, will be completed by the end of next year, dredging in the rear of the canal and locks being completed by the end of next year. The canal will be completed to the New Bedford River, and the whole plan is to have the canal for Buzzards Bay, and the first work of excavation will be done in the channel of the Weweantic river. It is planned to have the channel of the Weweantic dredged so that the width of the channel will be increased to 100 feet. The Kennedy Canal Company has engaged only to feed coal to the canal, and the town is the scene of considerable bustle at the present time inasmuch as all the coal used by the company's big plant will be taken care of for the other companies in the company's big plan, which will be used in the territory lying within the limits of the port at that port.

A SKUNK KILLED

Was Scientifically Shot in Jenness Street

"Are you coming out, night, Mary Ann?" Before Mary Ann had time to answer two pistol shots rang out on the midnight air.

The scene of the tragedy was Jenness street and the time, last night. The singer or songwriter who used Mary Ann, in words of song, of she was coming out tonight, based his music vaudeville sketch glorified move. He wasn't sure whether he or his son had been shot at. He felt sure that he was part of the tragedy because he didn't see anybody else around.

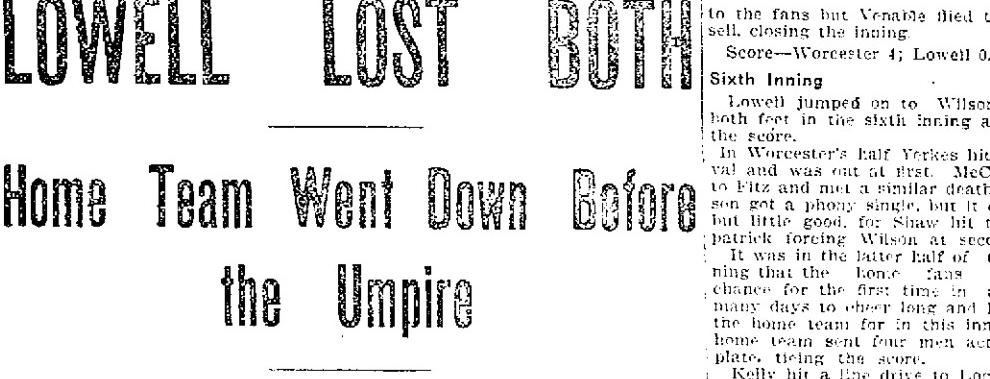

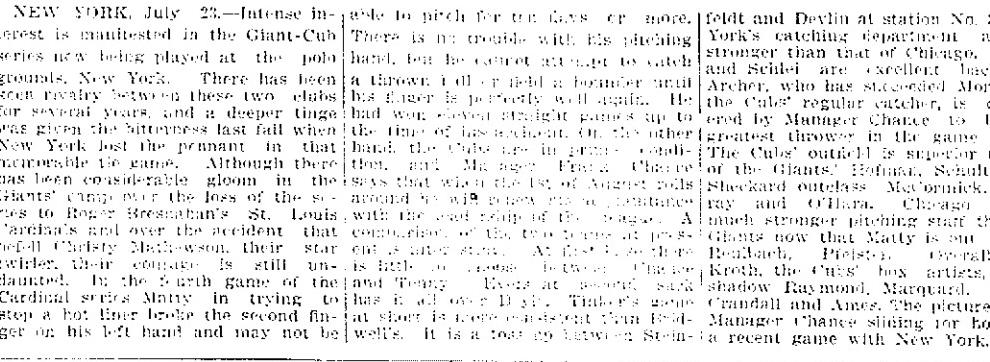

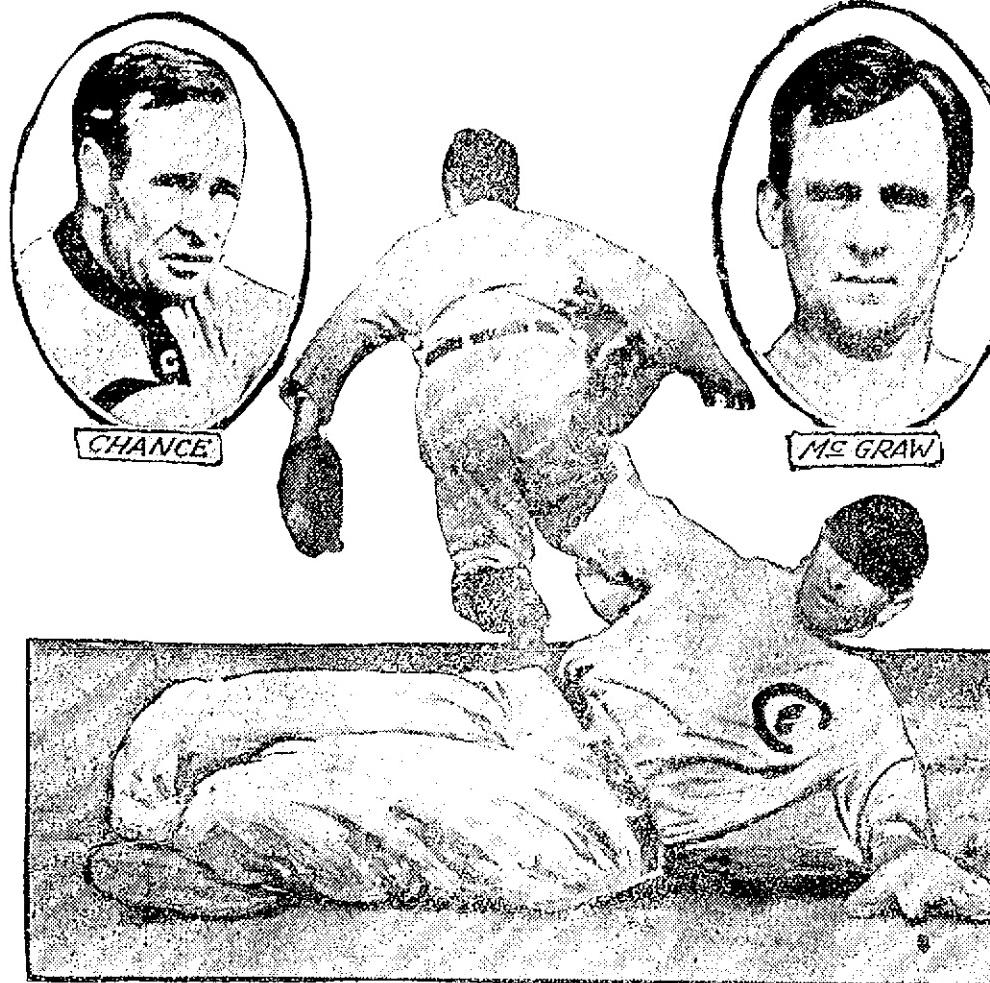

The shots, however, though deadly, were not aimed at him, but a few yards away, in a wet service, and well appointed home, he heard a bullet hitting his door. Webster told me that the skunk is a veritable animal of the gods' Monitors and that he is allied to the violin on one hand and the other on the other. But even though he should be distinguished it would the proud name of Mephitis Americana he could not smell any sweater than under the plain name of skunk.

The skunk in question had been making trouble on Mr. Howe's chickens and, for that he had to die. It generally happens that when a skunk is killed, the whole neighborhood knows all about it, but it wasn't so in this case. Mr. Howe is an excellent shot, and being more or less familiar with the anatomy of the skunk he shot him so as to avoid the one thing that renders the taking of a skunk's life unavoidable. Asked how he managed to kill the little animal without permeating the atmosphere with an odor much unlike the perfume of roses, Mr. Howe said: "The skunk has two glands near the interior extremity of the alimentary canal and there is secreted the fluid fluid, which the animal has the power of splitting at pleasure as a means of defense. I isolated the skunk by shooting him in the diaphragmophorus, thus depriving him of the use of his tail and paralyzing the proctocochleomotus to the alimentary canal."

The shots, however, though deadly, were not aimed at him, but a few yards away, in a wet service, and well appointed home, he heard a bullet hitting his door. Webster told me that the skunk is a veritable animal of the gods' Monitors and that he is allied to the violin on one hand and the other on the other. BASEBALL NOTES

Pitcher Lively of the Montgomery Southern league club has been sold to the Philadelphia Americans.

It is said that Orville Bush, the Tiger shortstop, didn't know how to put on a uniform three years ago.

"Nick" Altrock, the Washington outfielder, has been released to Minnesota of the American association.

The Chicago National league club has purchased Joe Heath, a semi-professional shortstop, from North Attleboro.

Pittsburg went down again before the Philadelphia nine and it would not be a surprise if the Doves, with their new lease of life, gave the Pirates trouble.

"I will quit baseball rather than return to Chicago and play for Murphy," says Johnny Kling, the champion catcher. "I am through with Murphy and his Chicago club. I will play with any other club that meets my terms, however, but never with Chicago.

The Libby Baseball club of Libby, Mont., has probably the most remarkable record of any baseball club in the country. It possesses an undisputed record for 15 years without a single defeat. The club is not a professional organization, but just a club such as is formed in small towns each year.

A Positive Clean-Up

For the balance of this month, step into my store and be your own salesman—pick out any suit in stock—and this means that you'll pick from the finest woolens in the land. I will furnish the goods from whatever woolens you select, give you a sample of the cloth for comparison and make the suit from the same Merino material you select. I will measure you and make the suit to order from your measures. And I will make the suit the way you want it made, and if it doesn't come the way you want it—make you a new garment without argument.

And by this I mean that when I take your order for a suit, the suit will fit to your satisfaction; the suit will hold its color that the linings and trimmings will last a year or be maintained by me in new repair free of charge to you.

SUIT TO ORDER

Trousers to order $2.50

GUARANTEE POSITIVELY

Even though the price may seem all out of proportion for high-class tailoring, the trimmings will be the best.

I will use genuine all-pure canvas backed by the guarantee of Goldsmith & Son, the leading trimmings house in the country.

I will use genuine kid leather woven from selected South American horse hairs 18-20 hairs to the inch.

I will use full weight webbing, fully dyed and hand padded so as to make when combined with the canvas and kid leather, a coat that will always stand up.

To J. H. Lewis' Old Customers

I Have Little to Say

You who have traded with J. H. in the past 25 years know the style. You deserve it to you will be superfluous perhaps. You know that when you paid Lewis $40 for a suit of clothes, the woolen in that suit was the finest money could buy.

To those who never had a suit made by Lewis, a further explanation is well and perhaps he will. Some 15 years ago I had the honor to be employed in the Lewis store as a cutter. And I want to say truly here, that it was the best school I ever attended. Through my association there I have passed thousands of yards of the fabrics, whose style and splendid quality created an impression upon me that has remained in influence in these later years.

The fabrics I say was never to bring over price, but quality and style were very scrutinized and had to stand every test. As I have previously stated in my ad this week my Lowell store has about a hundred and fifty of these suits which includes shadow striped wools, blue serges and fine dark cashmere so scarce today. A great number of these styles will be placed in my doorway with their original tags attached. You are invited to see and handle them.

SENATOR CUMMINS

Wants the Duty on Manufactured Products Reduced

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Emphasizing the importance of insisting upon reductions in the duties upon manufactured as well as upon raw material. Senator Cummins of Iowa, late yesterday made public a statement which was accepted as representing the views of at least a majority of the progressive republican senators relative to the present situation with regard to the tariff bill.

Previously Mr. Cummins had been in consultation for two hours with the president and an exchange of views had passed between Mr. Cummins and others of the 10 who voted against the tariff bill in the senate.

The pronouncement is evidently intended to meet the idea that the president and the downward revisionists would be content with free raw material.

"I endorse every word of the statement recently made by the president and earnestly hope that he will be successful in bringing the conference to his views," says Mr. Cummins, who then called attention to the fact that emphasis had been placed upon the so-called raw materials.

"I feel compelled," says Mr. Cummins, "to remind the public that neither the president's statement or our bill was so confined." He continues:

"While it is of the most importance that iron ore, oil, hides and coal be dealt with as proposed by the president, it is of still greater importance that the duties on manufactured products shall be brought down somewhere near the protective point. It will be of little advantage to the body of the people to do away with unnecessary duties on raw material if the manufacturers are permitted to enjoy the excessive duties that enable them to exact exorbitant profits upon the things that the people must buy and use."

Instancing the most prominent features of the senate bill which he thinks should be amended, Mr. Cummins said that those who have been contending for lower duties can afford to surrender a part of their just demands if they can, in the main, obtain the conditions which insure the people against undue prices in the chief commodities of commerce.

He then outlined his principal objections to the bill as it left the senate. He says the reduction in the steel schedule generally are not sufficient, but the schedule might be accepted but for the increase on structural iron and steel.

"Structural iron and steel, the use of which is so rapidly increasing," says Mr. Cummins, "is raised from the Dingey rate of ten dollars per ton and the house rate of six dollars per ton to 45 per cent. ad valorem while, at the present price of this commodity means a duty of $16 per ton increase over the present law of $8 per ton and over the house provision of $10 per ton."

When it is considered that the duty on steel rails is $8.50 per ton and their present price is $28 per ton, the proposed duty upon a form of steel which sells for $35 per ton is wholly indefensible. Free iron ore is a very desirable thing, but when the value of the commodity is taken into account it would be vastly better if a fair rate can be secured on the one of these items, to allow the duty on iron ore to go at 25 cents per ton, and cut the duty on structural steel to five or six dollars per ton, where it properly belongs and where it would still furnish complete protection to home producers measured by the republican standard.

In the former instance, if both rough and dressed lumber are not true, as they ought to be, the house rate of $1.50 rough lumber should be preserved and the differential upon

TIED TO A TREE

Boy Held for Stealing Two Turnips

HAVERHILL, July 23.—Joseph Porette, 16 years old, of Dover, N. H., left this city for his home yesterday, after an experience he will not soon forget.

He was arraigned in the district court yesterday on a charge of larceny, but this was not pressed after Judge Fuller had heard the story Porette told.

The police agreed to not press when Judge Fuller remarked that the thief was tried as only two turnips were involved.

Porette and an older brother came to this city in search of work, and as they failed to obtain any they decided to return to Dover, N. H. They were without funds, and when they reached Rosemont, two miles from this city proper, they left the railroad tracks and went to a track garden nearby on Congress street.

They pulled up two turnips and were eating them when they were discovered by Indians who live in the vicinity. The Indians gave chase, and the younger Porette was captured, his brother escaping and continuing on his journey to Dover.

The younger Porette was informed over the attitude of his captors. They compelled him to said to put his hands behind his back and then he was carried tied to the tree.

After being tied to the tree, wood was sent to the police station to the effect that a burglar had been caught.

Inspector Shamus, who responded, was much surprised when he visited the tree and found his prisoner tied to the tree and Porette was much relieved when he was released and taken to the station.

After his case had been disposed of in court today Porette hastened to return to his home in Dover, N. H.

PHYSIC PROBE

PROF. HYSLOP ON TRAIL OF IN- DIANA MAN

KOKOMO, Ind., July 21.—Because of a strong presumption that his 10-year-old daughter visiting at Brockton, Mass., was ill and a subsequent verification of the presumption, Edward H. Keene of this city will become a subject of investigation by Prof. James H. Hyslop and the American branch of the society for psychical research, according to information received here yesterday.

Mr. Keene a few days ago became suddenly impressed with the idea his daughter was ill. He was unable to eat and sleep and became so nervous that he decided to go east immediately. A few hours before the arrival of the train at Brockton the daughter was suddenly stricken with appendicitis and was rushed to a hospital where she submitted to an operation. She will recover. Father and daughter are still in the east.

Prof. Hyslop himself was learned of the case and at once became interested. He has registered his intention of making a close investigation, and if the facts warrant it he will bring the matter officially before the society for psychical research of which he is the head.

Prof. Hyslop believes the case is one that will solve the cases explained by Cesare Lombroso, the Italian psychologist.

GREAT GAIN

MADE IN TRADE WITH NON-CON-

TIGUOUS TERRITORY

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Trade of the United States with the non-contingent territories in the usual year has exceeded that of the previous year and was more than three times as much as a decade ago. The term "non-contingent territory" includes Alaska and all the insular areas under the control of the United States. To this we add the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippine Islands, Guam, Midway, Tai-Pai, etc. While the value of the trade for January of the first month of the fiscal year exceeded that of the previous year, the value of the second month of the year was less than that of the first year. This business is in excess of 100 per cent of the total value of the foreign trade of the United States.

Prof. Hyslop believes the case is one that will solve the cases explained by Cesare Lombroso, the Italian psychologist.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reilly, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

AN EXCITING SITUATION.

That was a most trying situation in which ex-President Roosevelt found himself when he was surrounded by a dozen hippopotami while rowing in an open boat on lake Naivasha in Africa. That was a more trying moment than the battle of San Juan Hill, but Teddy came out the victor. What a thrilling chapter that will form in his book on the wilds of Africa.

WHERE ARBITRATION IS NEEDED.

We regret to read that a strike is imminent in some of the shoe shops of Lynn. We had supposed that the manufacturers and their employees were ready to adopt a plan that would ensure industrial peace. The lesson of Brockton should not be forgotten. That city shows the ruinous result of fighting over trivial differences that might be easily disposed of by arbitration. Mutual concession and arbitration are the safeguards against consequences that will ruin industries and give competing cities a lasting advantage.

THE FLYING MACHINE.

The time is not far distant when we shall see excursion parties passing over our heads high in the air, in aeroplanes or monoplanes. The inventors of the world seem to have set out to solve the problem of aerial navigation. The progress thus far is astounding. What will ensure the success of their efforts is the fact that all the great powers are offering inducement to inventors of airships to be used in war. Were it not for that we should not find such rapid progress. We may now expect to find Count Zeppelin or some other inventor reaching the north pole by means of one of the perfected flying machines. There is a probability also that the flying machine may be made a very useful factor in the production of wireless telegraphy, depending upon the elevation in the atmosphere.

None of the flying machines has yet reached the state of perfection that renders it entirely safe when it meets cross currents or unfavorable weather. There is much discussion as to the comparative merits of the monoplane airship that carries one person or the biplane of the Wright pattern that will carry two. The principle of the gyroscope is said to be applicable to the flying machine for the purpose of balancing it in the air. The principle has been successfully applied to prevent ships rocking at sea. There is still much to be accomplished before the aviator can steer his airship safely and steadily through the air in the face of counter currents that are very common in the higher atmosphere.

CAUSES OF CHILD SUICIDE.

During the past few weeks there have been an astonishing number of cases of child suicide. When children take to suicide there must be something radically wrong first in the child's constitution and second in the child's training. Children, like older folks, must be taught that they are responsible to the Creator for their lives and that they will have to answer for self-destruction same as for murder.

It often happens that adults planning suicide do so with calm and prayerful consideration just as if their suicidal act were approved by the Most High. This very fact shows that there are many adults as well as children who lack the sense of moral responsibility for their own lives. That is due to the lack of right training or education as to their individual responsibility to the Creator.

But the other cause, the constitutional weakness that leads to such a rash determination, what is it? It is nothing more or less than the nervous temperament, about which the vast majority of people are supremely ignorant. They may recognize nervousness when they see it but that may not be the nervous temperament.

The temperament is a condition of the constitution, whether nervous, athletic or vital. If the individual is controlled by the mental faculties and the nerves he is of the nervous temperament; if by bone and muscle, of the athletic; and, if he takes things easy, enjoys life, eats, drinks and sleeps with great relish, he is of the vital temperament.

The temperament of a child is derived from the parents, is hereditary and cannot be wholly overcome. If both parents are of the nervous temperament the child will have this weakness in a greater degree than either.

It is plain then if such children are goaded, ill-treated or abused, they will reach a state of mind approaching insanity in which they are liable to resort to any extreme not excepting suicide. That explains why child suicide is shocking New England today.

We live in a nervous-tossing age, different from the simple life of European races that largely follow agricultural pursuits. We are continually in a rush; we sleep at the sound of the bell or the mid-winter blizzard; we wake the next day during the daylight when we hurry to dinner and hurry to dinner with no time to eat; other people ever ready except the world begins to right us in a day or two; most of pleasure or the joys here to supplement the daily dull grind; this we go on from week to week and year to year. We are too often seen on the public streets. Let a person home in the country, however, and he will almost wholly lose his home life again. He may travel a great distance over the frontier, however, and find the old-time simple, kindly, neighborly and other domestic life that gave him a sense of security and happiness; everything with his old friends and old neighbors, old schoolmates. This state of existence is not perfect, but it is a happy state, and as a result that we find the people here to be the most peaceful and quietest in the country.

It is the nervous temperament which causes the six or seven thousand cases of child suicide each year in this country. This condition is not to be blamed on the parents, but the overwork, overstrain, a desire to be always first, and the desire to be popular, the things that tend to overtax the vital and establish the nervous temperament.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

They have a queer case at the Kentucky penitentiary. Sam Kirk soon to be released is serving his second term. Kirk stole the same cow twice, and there is a tradition here that he will make another try for the cow if he gets his freedom. Kirk took the cow and was caught and convicted. He was sent to the penitentiary for one year. He announced that as soon as he got out he would go back home and get that cow. It is thought that he felt he had earned the cow by reason of having served one year in the penitentiary for the stealing of the animal due to his promise, as soon as he was released he went back home and again stole the cow. He was convicted and sent up for double his first term. Now Kirk is almost ready to go back home again and it is hoped by the prison authorities that the cow is dead so Kirk can stay out of prison longer. Kirk can stay out of prison longer except that he never did anything wrong except that cow and that he had a species of monomania which led him to take the cow.

Deputy Sheriff Jenkins of Raton, Colorado, arrested a man who had on his person a big dangerous looking weapon known as a six shooter, for which he could give no plausible excuse of carrying it. The officer took his gun to Raton for a hearing, and Justice of the Peace Payne there assessed him $50 and the costs, which in all means not less than $60, and if the debts are refused to liquidate the man about 50 days' free lodging and board at the big hotel conducted by George McLeanough, which stands in the western part of the town, commanding a beautiful view of the city, except on foggy mornings. The officer is doing his duty when he picks up the man later and the people will stay with him on such propositions, as well as every other in the enforcement of the law.

The community does not want the underworld gain toer around; our people have seen enough trouble as a result of his manipulations in the past, and whatever is done to exterminate him does with the general approval of the community.

What precisely is the origin of the expression "in windfall," which Mr. Asquith, Lord Asquith, and others use, each with an application of his own in speaking of budget matters? An old question. It shows that some families of the English nobility held their land on a tenement which forbade them to cut down trees, these being reserved as the property of the royal navy. But any tree which fell down without human assistance they might keep, so that a hurricane causing a great "windfall" was highly welcome. It seems probable, however, that the expression was simpler in origin. Even an apple-tree fell to the ground without the hand of picking it, and which a passerby might often annex without fearing that he was a thief, would be a nice "windfall."

Assumption. Fellow of Berkimer County makes a sensible declaration when he says: "I will not pledge myself to support any abstract proposition, the contents of which are not fully made known to me before making my pledge." No man ought blinder to judge himself to any measure he has never seen.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL.

The regular meeting of Spindle City circle, Companions of the Forest, was held in Post 120, G. A. R. hall, last night, Chief Companion Alice Devine in the chair. Considerable business was transacted during the evening. Reports of officers were read and accepted, showing that the circle is in a good financial condition. The circle was visited by Grand Chief Comp. Miss Josephine Maloney of Boston. She gave some pleasing remarks under the head of good and welfare. After the meeting a good time was enjoyed by the members.

Centralville Bazaar Lodge, No. 137, I. O. O. F., had a regular session last evening at Old Town Hall, Bridge street. Routine business was transacted. A communication was received from the grand lodge concerning the grand union field day which is to be held Saturday, Aug. 28. A committee was appointed to act on the same.

Lowell Lodge, K. of P., held a well attended meeting at the rustic hall last night, at which considerable routine business was transacted. Speeches and a general social hour followed the business meeting.

SKETCH OF THE OVERHEAD TROLLEY SYSTEM NOW BEING OPERATED IN PRESCOTT STREET BY THE SEWER DEPARTMENT

JAIL SENTENCE THE SEWER JOB IDEAL OUTING

Husband and Wife Accused of Larceny Work On It Will be Held by Children of Rushed Mary Sodality

WORCESTER, July 22.—Oscar Carlson, aged 23, and his wife, Alice Carlson, aged 20, were sent to the house of correction for 30 days by Judge Esty in the district court yesterday for the larceny of a silk shirt waist from Mrs. Daniel B. Sullivan of 65 Summer street. After the court session Carlson was photographed and his measurements were taken for the police rogues' gallery.

The couple went to Mrs. Sullivan's house Tuesday night and occupied a room in which Mrs. Sullivan had a silk shirt waist. This waist disappeared with the couple when they left yesterday morning and the case was referred to the police.

Inspector Fred P. Good got track of the couple through an employment agency as they were about to leave Worcester for North Brookfield to work. He found them at Harrington corner waiting for an electric car and asked them to accompany him to police headquarters.

On the way Mrs. Carlson said she had forgotten her purse in the employment office and asked permission to go after it. As soon as she entered the building she darted down the hall, into a dark section of the building. Inspector Good followed and caught her, and in a corner he found the silk waist, which had been torn in two.

The couple made no defense, but Carlson acknowledged that they were arrested last summer for the larceny of $70 in Bridgeport, where he was sent to jail for 10 months and his wife was put on probation.

Weak? Tired? Run-down?

These conditions come from overwork, a weak stomach, overtaxed nerves or feeble blood. When you feel "all in"—hardly able to drag about, no energy, no ambition, easily exhausted and can't sleep—take and note what a difference they make in your condition. The stomach is the first to feel the good effects. Food tastes good, the digestion is strengthened; bowels and bile work regularly, the blood is cleansed, and the nerves rested. The whole system responds to the tonic action of Beecham's Pills. Soon there is the buoyant feeling of returning health.

Caused the Death of
Twelve Persons

HOUSTON, Texas, July 22.—The West Indian hurricane which swept from one end of the Texas gulf coast to the other Wednesday, caused sacrifice of at least 12 lives, fatal injuries of four other persons, and serious wounding of 16, according to the details of the storm which began to arrive here last night. Whole towns were devastated, and the damage, through wrecking and ruining of property, will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The dead:
At Eagle Lake—Staffner.
At Bay City—Three children, names unknown.
At El Compo—A Mexican, name unknown.
At Pakachis—Four, names unknown.
At Wharton—One negro.
At Pendleton—A section foreman.

At Ramsey—Farmer, name unknown. Details of his disaster in the southwestern part of the storm-swept district are still meager; no wires were stripped from the poles and railway was cut off.

The territory around Bay City seems to have been the centre of the storm, which moved southwest from Galveston. For four hours a 50 mile wind swept across the Bay City region, carrying everything before it. Velasco, a small town near Bay City, is reported demolished. Every building was unroofed or partly demolished and the town last night was in four feet of water. The residents are escaping in boats.

Come districts in the lower coast country report that the storm was worse than that of 1900.

Eagle Lake seems to have undergone property loss nearly as great as that at Bay City.

Similar situations are reported from Leslie, Newarris and East Bernard.

It is impossible as yet to estimate the total damage. Along the Brownsville road from Kingsville, in places the destruction was nearly complete.

At El Campo the electric light plant is wrecked, all elevators are badly damaged and there is every chance town is either demolished or wrecked. In the oil field about Marquam, derricks were blown down and wells stripped of their machinery.

Six prisoners escaped from the jail at Richmond when the windows had been blown in and while the guards were repairing the damage.

EXCURSION TO NANTASKET

Commencing Saturday the Boston & Northern Street Railway company will put on sale special excursion tickets which will be good on regular cars and boats for the round trip from Lowell to Nantasket beach at a reduced rate Monday, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The company is able to offer this reduced rate by an arrangement with the managers of the Nantasket Steamboat company and of Paragon park. The trip will include admission to Paragon park which is more interesting than ever before.

Those taking this trip will enjoy the beauty of the trolley ride to Boston, where after reaching the Seaport Signal terminal of the Boston Elevated system they will take an Atlantic Avenue elevated train to Rowe's wharf, from which the boats leave for the beautiful spot down Boston Harbor to the beach. The boats leave at 29 minutes past the hour every hour.

HEIR TO FORTUNE

MAN HAS BEEN PRISONER FOR TWELVE YEARS

SHAWIN, P.A., July 23.—Charles Beaubou aged 34 years, for 12 years a prisoner in a garret at the home of his mother at Wheatland, near here, is one of the direct heirs to the Nancy Beaubou estate of St. Louis. Beaubou is an imbecile.

His mother said he was confined to the room because she could not neglect her domestic duties to care for him. When found he was entirely nude with a growth of hair over his body.

Frank C. Vaughan, a St. Louis attorney, has notified the Mercer county home authorities that Beaubou is one of the few heirs to the vast estate. Beaubou's flight was discovered accidentally six weeks ago, when a milkman heard his cries and an investigation followed. His mind is improving rapidly.

ATTACKED JUDGE

YOUNG BLACKSMITH WAS GIVEN A THRASHING

CUMBERLAND, ME., July 23.—John Hipp, a young blacksmith, attacked Justice Jacob B. Humbird, as the latter went to a butcher shop near his home on Fayette street, but got the worst of it. Hipp had just completed a sentence of three months in the house of correction, which was imposed by Justice Humbird for being habitually disorderly. He called the justice a vile name for giving him the sentence and started to beat him.

Judge Humbird warded off Hipp's lunge and knocked him through the side door of a milk wagon that was standing along the curb. He then finished knocking his man out blackening his eyes.

Hipp was given a hearing before Justice Martin later on a charge of being habitually disorderly. He was sentenced to six months in the house of correction. His mother went on his appeal bond, and he swore off from drink. Justice Humbird's right arm was badly bruised from warding off Hipp's blows.

WORKMEN KILLED ENJOYABLE DAY

By the Collapse of a Building

ST. PETERSBURG, July 23.—Two men were killed and a number injured today in the collapse of a building which was in course of construction.

A tall man, 6 feet 4 inches, was that of the workmen who were killed. They were at the scene of the accident when the building collapsed and were buried under the ruins.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the building, which was more than 100 feet long and 20 feet wide, fell. Both men were working in front of the structure and were taken to the Mechanics Hospital and then sent to the Mayo Clinic, where they are receiving medical treatment.

BIG GARBAGE JOB

of $7,000,000

BOSTON, July 23.—Indications of the garbage contract if it was submitted by the city officials were to be submitted to them for the section refers fact that Mayor Higginson wants to both street lighting and garbage and make the proposed $7,000,000 refuse contracts in the same way, contract which it made with the city. As a consequence the recently opened the biggest contract in the history of the city making the territory of the city and would have been unavoidable of the city making the entire sanitary department.

The reason is the same as that which caused the city officials to demand the proposed big five-year street and lighting contract—namely, that since Section 16 of the new city charter forbade the making of the contract would be illegal and would make Superintendent of Streets Emerson liable to a suit in regard to the street was lighted.

The interpretation of the clause. He had another conference with commission and corporation Chairman Sullivan of the finance commission on this section of the city charter on the matter, and stated yesterday that nothing definite would be exactly the same as that which done in regard to the contract for it would have to be given by them on the first couple of days.

RANSACK BROS.

Chalifoux's Employees Hold Annual Outing

The Ransack Brothers went to Chalifoux lake yesterday and ransacked the place in the interest of fun, and had lots of it.

The Ransack Brothers are the playmates of J. L. Chalifoux, and the day was their annual meeting. Unfortunately, Mr. Chalifoux was in Canada, and his sons out of town, so that they could not be present in person, but they sent word that they would be there in spirit, and if they were their spirits had a good time.

The party left the store at 12:30 on a special car and proceeded at once to Canobie. At 1:30 a full course dinner was served in the dining pavilion and there was where the real fun began in the performance at the theatre was done. After the dinner the party got ready to the hall field, where a hot William Caudoux, assisted by John Crowley and Miss Anna Bourassa, Collars and cuffs and pants. The party returned home on their teams, representing respectively the special at a seasonable hour.

Just When You Want Them

One of the largest waist manufacturers in America found that he had 1500 dozen waists in three different styles. He was retiring from business and decided to close them out quickly; we together with one store in Boston and one store in Hartford took the entire lot.

One style is fine batiste with insertions of dainty Val. lace in back, front and sleeves. Another also of batiste has yoke of herringbone medallions set in lace. Both styles are 3-4 sleeves with tucked collar and cuffs edged with lace. They are styles we have sold in large quantities for 97c, but this lot we will offer for

The store in Boston advertised them as a big bargain at 65c.

The other style is of lawn or batiste with pin tucked yoke front and back, 3-4 sleeves with tucked collar and cuffs edged with lace, just the waist for you to take on your vacation, as it will stand many hard washings. Two years ago we sold them for $1.25, last year it was the best style we could find for 97c, now we offer them for

69c

Although the quantities are large you had better anticipate your vacation wants NOW.

Heavy Damage Caused by Fire in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 23.—The factory of the New Bedford Cordage company, one of the largest makers of rope in the country, was practically destroyed by fire this morning, the damage running well into $300,000. The pleater room where the fire started, the main building and the separate office buildings were gutted, only the brick walls remaining while the rope walk and smaller oil building were seriously damaged.

The fire started from spontaneous combustion caused by grit in the hemp used in the pleater room and it spread rapidly through the oil-soaked material and building. The company's private fire alarm box was sounded about 1 o'clock and it was followed immediately by an alarm from another nearby box. The company's own fire fighting organization did very effective work and the streams of water which it commanded were at first of greater power than those of the city department.

The oil about the factory made the blaze a bad one to handle but brick construction confined the flames.

The factory is located at the corner of Ash and Court streets in the western part of the city.

This was the eleventh fire within 24 hours, the firemen having been kept on the jump all night by incendiary blazes in various parts of the city.

CANOBIE LAKE THEATRE

"A Night in Belmont" is by far the best which the Canobie Comedies company has produced as far as this popular resort of bad weather conditions proving favorable to audiences should be large during the summer.

The comedy stock of Messrs. Sherman Wade and James TenBrook is especially clever. The singing of Miss Camille Stafford and Miss Jessie Miller and the charming dancing of Miss Harriet Koch are all features which go to make the show one of unusual interest and picturesqueness.

The Atlas quartet is becoming exceedingly popular, and their selections meet with cheering at every performance.

The fire which follows the show paper is one long laugh and catches the audience just right.

Don't fail to see this fine show.

There are two performances daily at 3:15 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday evening, moving pictures and the Atlas quartet.

THEATRE VOYONS.

Though in the course of a year there are many kinds of amusements offered the people of Lowell, none of them is more educational or worthy of the patronage of those who really enjoy a good show than the special Washington program at the Theatre Voyons today. These pictures, great in themselves, are shown in a way that enhances their value in a great deal. Carefully prepared musical programs together with a bill of interesting pictures form a pleasing variety and the whole structure of the theatre has been given to make this program the most notable. Hundreds have visited the theatre only to return again with their families and friends for once these pictures are seen you are sure to impress the nation very much.

BREEZY POINT.

As winter will always and its level so will the greater portion of the winter always patronize the amusement feature wherein they receive the most for their money, quality considered. This is true of Breezy Point. Winter Date, for every day since the opening, the attendance has been increasing and the number of pleased commenters much greater. The large dance surface, in excellent condition, makes that everyone has plenty of room and opportunity dancing to the music. The music supplied by Joe Hill band is of a high quality, popular, in good taste, and just suited for dancing. The decorations of Breezy Point, its decorations and its special features make it the best and best amusement resort in this vicinity. Come and you'll be glad.

MR. ROOSEVELT MEMBERS OF SUTTON COURT OF INQUIRY AND WITNESSES IN ANNAPOLIS HEARING

Has Collection of 2000 Specimens

NAIVASHA, British East Africa, July 22.—The entire collection of specimens of the Roosevelt expedition now numbers 2000, covering animals and birds of all sizes, from mole mace to rhinoceroses and from small shrews to bustards. It also includes several thousand reptiles and insects.

Mr. Roosevelt's last bull hippo which he shot recently in Lake Naivasha measured fourteen feet.

A GRAND COLLECTION

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Former President Roosevelt's African hunting trip has resulted in the enriching of the National Zoological park of Washington with an exceptional collection of live African birds and animals, many of which are not represented in the park's exhibit. While Mr. Roosevelt's purpose was to make a selection of dead birds and mammals for the national museum working in connection with the Smithsonian Institution his visit to Lake Naivasha, Nairobo, British East Africa, recently where he and his party were the guests of W. W. McMillan, an American owning the big estate, resulted in the presentation of the collection of live animals to the zoologists at the park by Mr. McMillan through the Smithsonian African expedition.

Mr. Roosevelt has accepted the gift on behalf of the park and Assistant Superintendant Baker will leave New York tomorrow on the steamer Arable for Nairobi to take charge of its transportation to this country.

Lieut. Col. Edward A. Mearns of the Smithsonian party has written to See. Wood describing the collection. It includes eleven large mammals and three lions, all in fine condition and for the most part well broken to captivity; one male and female lion, 5 years old; a male and two females, 17 months old; a female leopard, a pet of Mrs. McMillan; two cheetahs; a warthog; two stags; one Thompson's and one grants gazelle; well growing; a large eagle of unusual species; a small vulture and a large number of specimens of none of these except the lions and leopards are at present contained in the park. The collection is now at the farm near Nairobi.

NO CLUE YET

To Whereabouts of Suspected Murderer

LYNN, July 22.—The police of this city have received no cue to the whereabouts of the missing Nalbandian, the Armenian who is wanted in connection with a recent murder mystery revealed yesterday, early today, and no additional light had been thrown on the death of Minas K. Monjian, whose body was found in the trunk. Chief Burkes still held to the theory that the murder was committed in the room in which the trunk was found, although no one could be found who had heard the report of the shot which caused Monjian's death.

The police have already spread out a wide net for the apprehension of the much wanted man, and all over the country an active search was being made today. The steamship companies, especially the trans-Atlantic lines, have been furnished with a detailed description of Nalbandian, and instructions to detain him if found. His remarks in this city shortly before his disappearance, that he was going to Turkey, led the police to believe that he may now be on a steamship bound for that country.

The police admitted later in the morning that they were at sea for a motive other than that Nalbandian was killed accidentally. They have practically eliminated the robbery theory by the discovery of the dead man's watch and rings upon his person as well as his checkbook. They could find no evidence of a quarrel between the dead man and Vahan Nalbandian. The two had always been the best of friends and were never known to disagree.

The police were inclined to believe today that while the two men were seated together Nalbandian thought of a revolver he had purchased and told his friend about it. While they were examining the revolver it accidentally was discharged and Nalbandian was killed. Fearing that the police would connect him with the crime and that circumstantial evidence would immediately single him out as the murderer, Nalbandian decided to carry his belongings back to Armenia. He then left the city, the police think.

They account for the purchase of the revolver by the fact that Nalbandian was contemplating a return to his native land and had some of his countrymen here that he would not go back unarmed.

MONK FISH

BIT LEG OF MAN AT BLACK ROCKS

NEWBURYPORT, July 22.—A Nalbandian stepped out of a rockboat in deep water at Black Rock, off Billingsgate beach and one foot was grabbed by a marlin fish, monk fish. William Charlton, who was soon spinned the fish with a chain dagger and killed it. It tipped the scales at 25 pounds and is considered by fishermen to be one of the largest ever killed in this section. Charlton laid on number roots and the foot of the one grabbed by the fish was nearly severed. The fish pulled him off his feet and ran for the assistance of charcoal men who immediately hauled him ashore.

USED SLIPPER

TO BAIL WATER OUT OF A BOAT

WATERTOWN, Mass., July 22.—The presence of Lieut. James N. Sutton of the marine corps in the camp of the members of the Sutton court of inquiry in Annapolis was the cause of a great deal of excitement among the men of the camp. They had been told that Sutton was to be their commanding officer and that he would be their superior officer.

Cable Trench Machine

The cable trench machine was put in operation in Prescott street this forenoon. It soon seemed unable to do the work. The big cable that carries the purchasing agent McKenzie went to buckets from tower to tower at either Springfield and Hartford, Ct., today, bravest feats to look over fire apparatus in those two cities. Ald. Adams, chairman of the committee on fire department, or the committee on fire department, or any of the committee members, were not invited to join the party composed of the mayor and Messrs. Hosmer and McKenzie. Just for that the committee had been playing in an old box, which at the time they got into it was high and dry, but as the tide came in started to drift out sea when some one on shore heard the cries of the children.

They notified Mrs. Twomey and she quickly donned a bathing suit and started to swim out to the boat, which was nearly a half mile from the shore. In her hurry she neglected to properly fasten the skirt of her bathing suit, and this becoming tangled in her limbs made the task of swimming much more difficult. She cried to the men on shore for help, but none of them came to the rescue, so she stripped the skirt into the water and with what energy she had left made for the boat and finally reached it when her strength had about given out and brought the children ashore.

The feat of Mrs. Twomey is considered all the more remarkable because health has not been good of late, and she had arisen from a sick bed only a few days before she was called upon to perform this feat. It is feared her exertion will bring about a relapse.

The bearers were Andrew Flanagan, Peter Mawn, John McGowan, Leo McKeon, Paul McKenzie and Joseph Clokey. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Carney, and burial was in charge of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott.

EXTRA WALTHAM MAN

Arraigned on a Charge of Manslaughter in Police Court

The case of Raymond Vetter, of Waltham, charged with manslaughter in having caused the death of Frank McFarland, of Waltham, in Middlesex street on the night of July 16th, was heard in police court this morning. John J. Flynn of Waltham appeared for Vetter, entered a plea of not guilty and waived the reading of the complaint.

Vetter was in charge of a large automobile dray which he drove to this city on July 16, to deliver some store fixtures at a place in Middlesex street. While McFarland and three other men were carrying a piano into the store, Vetter cranked the automobile with the intention of taking the machine out of the path of an electric car. The reverse clutch was "thrown in," and when Vetter turned the crank of the machine, it backed up instead of going forward and before he could apply the brakes the van backed into the piano and McFarland was crushed between the piano and the window of the store. McFarland was taken away in the ambulance.

Medical Examiner Joseph V. Meigs was called and testified that he was "noulied about 6:30 on the night of the accident." He saw the body at the undertakers and in making his examination found that there was a fracture at the base of the skull, depressed fracture of the frontal bone, fracture of the jaw, fractures of right and left collar bones, the chest was crushed in and there were lacerated wounds on the nose and ear.

JUDGE BROWNE CLIMAX REACHED

To Assist in Prosecution of Prisoner In the Rucker-Macon Dispute

NEW YORK, July 23.—When Helen Spencer was arrested in Ecuador by New York detectives on the charge of luring girls to the Panama canal zone for immoral purposes, arrived here yesterday it was found that in addition to the two detectives who had her in custody she was accompanied by Judge Thomas F. Browne of the department of civil administration of the canal zone and M. C. Steele of the Panama Y. M. C. A. Judge Browne and Mr. Steele will assist in the prosecution of the prisoner and their presence here verifies the news that great efforts are being made by the rulers of the canal zone to break up the alleged "white slave" traffic between this country and the isthmus.

The party came on the Panama R. R. S. S. Co.'s boat the Alliance. The detectives denied the wireless report received here Wednesday that the Spencer woman had tried to jump overboard while the steamer was off Capetown.

The arrest of Helen Spencer followed an alleged attempt to take three New York chorus girls to Panama under promise of a theatrical engagement.

The police say that after two years at sea the woman revealed to them the real purpose of the journey and they appealed to the captain who kept them aboard and brought them back home.

Helen Spencer is about 35 years old. She came down the gangplank today dressed in black heavily veiled and carrying a white pocket. She was immediately taken to police headquarters.

MILL JOBS RUSHING

Contractors Hurrying With New Mill Buildings

The work of tearing down the dye-house of the Bigelow Carpet company is about finished and the contractors will begin at once on the construction of one of the largest houses in America. The new building will be 780 feet long. Of this building for 230 feet will be five stories high with two story wings on each side. The work will be rushed as the company wants the job finished in the fall. W. R. Pike of Lawrence is the general contractor and Patrick Cogger is removing the old dye house. Mr. Cogger has 75 men on the job.

The Massachusetts mill, addition referred to previously in The Sun is also being rushed along.

The Merrimack mills in Dutton street adjacent to the old counting room. This is also a rush job.

The Massachusetts mill, addition referred to previously in The Sun is also being rushed along.

The large amount of mill building now being done and done with a rush together with the large number of applications at city hall on the part of contractors for certificates permitting them to work in the mills are taken as good indication that prosperity has struck the city and that the mills will have plenty of work for the operatives during the fall and winter.

Mr. Robinson of the B. H. Wiggin company is building a beautiful residence in the Clark road, in the annexed district.

Merrimack Mill Job

Contractor Burton H. Wiggin has the work well under way on the new building being put up by the Merrimack Mill Company.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

William Roddy, Joseph Swift, Joseph Cronan and George Scully were arraigned before Judge Pickman in police court this morning on complaints charging them with assault and battery on William H. Cunningham on the Parker avenue bridge on the 4th of July. All four entered pleas of not guilty.

It was alleged that the four met Cunningham on the bridge and without any provocation assaulted him.

William H. Roddy

William H. Roddy, one of the defendants also a resident of Dracut, was the next witness called, and as testified in part as follows: "I saw Cunningham on Sunday, July 4th, and he was drunk. He was also drunk the night before when I met him in Merrimack square. He spoke so loud that people were attracted to us and I started to move away. He followed me and said: 'Do you think you can tickle me?' I told him that I did not know and that I did not want to fight with him as I was afraid of a knife. He said: 'Come up in the alleyway and I will tickle you or stab you.' About that time Cronan and Swift got off the Haverhill car and we walked away.

On the day of the assault I was sitting in field at the corner of Parker and Lakeview avenues, when Cunningham came along and beckoned to me to go over to him. I went over and asked him if I thought I could tickle him. I told him that I wanted nothing to do with him. He struck me in the neck, and I backed away. He followed me up and struck me twice more. Then I struck him. Swift came up at this point and separated us. Cunningham pulled a bottle of whisky out of his pocket and threw it down on the ground and said: 'I will go home and get a gun and shoot you.'

Roddy testified that Cunningham's sister did not put in any appearance until the trouble was over and he had returned to the field. He denied that he threatened Cunningham prior to the day of the assault.

Roddy said that he was the only one who struck Cunningham, that Swift did not strike him and Cronan and Scully were in the field while the trouble was in progress.

Joseph Swift

Joseph Swift, a defendant, said that he never had any trouble with Cunningham. His story of the trouble was similar to that offered by the preceding witness. He testified that Roddy struck out one blow and that when Cunningham had struck him Roddy several blows. Swift went over and separated Cunningham and Roddy. Ten minutes later Cunningham and his brother came back and spoke to the crowd.

Arthur Ecklund

Arthur Ecklund, of Dracut, said that Cunningham was intoxicated on July 4th. He saw Cunningham and tried to have him go home but he refused to go. Instead he took off his coat and threw it in the bushes. Witness saw nothing of the fight, but there was blood on Cunningham's face.

George Scully

George Scully of Dracut, also a defendant in the case, was called and testified in corroborations. He denied that he struck Cunningham.

Thomas S. Ferris

Thomas S. Ferris said he saw Cunningham at the spring at the paper mill near Parker avenue and said that he was drunk.

Rebuttal

Judge Crawford, a police officer of Dracut, was called on rebuttal. He said that he met Swift at the corner of Lakeview avenue and Pleasant street. Swift had some blood on his clothes. He said that he got it when he separated Roddy and Cunningham.

This concluded the testimony and a recess was taken till afternoon.

Arguments were made after the noon recess and after the evidence in the case had been considered by Judge Pickman he found Roddy and Swift guilty and imposed fines of $15 and $14 respectively. Cronan and Scully were found not guilty and discharged.

One Month to Jail

Joseph Cronan of Lowell was the first witness called for the defense. He was in Dracut on July 4th but did not strike Cunningham.

On cross-examination witness said that he and the other three defendants had been at Cronan's place at Long Pond on the morning of the assault, but drank nothing of an intoxicating nature at that place.

Edmund Newport

Edmund Newport said he saw Cunningham coming along Parker avenue and he beckoned to Roddy. Roddy went towards him. "I don't know what was said, but I saw Cunningham strike Roddy. Roddy backed away and Cunningham followed him up. Roddy and Cunningham then clinched and in jail. He appealed and was held under bonds for the superior court.

Cases Continued

The case of Frank Levesque of Dracut, charged with illegally keeping liquor was continued till August 26 by agreement of counsel.

40,000 TROOPS

Are Needed to Defeat Tribesmen

MADRID, VIA HENDAYE ON THE FRENCH FRONTIER

July 23.—It is reported that Gen. Marina, commander of the Spanish forces at Melilla, has informed the government that he will require 40,000 men to insure a decisive defeat over the Moorish tribesmen.

THAW CASE

DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME TO TAKE HAND IN IT

NEW YORK, July 23.—District Attorney Jerome has decided to take a hand in Harry Thaw's case once more. Despite the fact that the case is in its present prospect is outside his immediate jurisdiction Mr. Jerome announced today that he would go to White Plains on Monday to appear at the resumption in the supreme court of the hearing as to Thaw's mental condition. The district attorney said that Attorney General O'Malley, who is opposing Thaw's application for his release on the part of the state, had asked his assistance.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate seasonable dullness in some branches of trade but the tendency is toward continued expansion, orders for future requirements showing a satisfactory increase. Many manufacturing plants are operating up to capacity and industrial conditions record steady improvement. Fair retail trade in seasonal merchandise is reported at Boston and jobbers are quite busy with goods in many wholesale lines. Business is deferred on account of tariff uncertainty but manufacturers continue actively engaged and prices continue well maintained.

Bank exchanges this week in all the leading cities of the United States are $2,727,230,339, 17.1 per cent greater than for the same week last year and 17.3 per cent in excess of 1906.

THE "HALF MOON"

NEW YORK, July 23.—Although heavy rain caused the curtailment of some of its picturesque features, it did not interfere with the plan of the Brooklyn navy yard officials to bring their giant crane into play today for the removal of the "Half Moon" from the little vessel's perch on the deck of the big Dutch freighter "Seastork" which arrived yesterday. With the Half Moon's hull sealed in American waters she will be lifted out as nearly as possible as was her original when Hudson navigated her and kept in the navy yard to await next fall's naval celebration in which she will play a prominent part.

EMPIRE RACES

EMPIRE CITY, N. Y., July 23.—First race—Zacaetas, 112, Dugan, 3 to 2, 3 to 5, 1 to 4, won; Lord Clinton, 122, Austin, 10 to 1, 3 to 1, 3 to 5, second; Mayflower, 114, Crevey, 3 to 1, even, 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:10.

Second race: Nadzu, 108, Taplin, 9 to 5, 7 to 16, 1 to 4, first; Golconda, 103, Dugan, 4 to 1, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, second; Miss Crittenden, 91, Martin, 7 to 5, 1 to 2, 1 to 5, third. Time, 1:58 3-5. Monsele, King of Bashan and Monte ran.

INJURIES MAY BE FATAL

PANVILLE, Ill., July 23.—A motor car driven by Richard Cannon, a nephew of Speaker Cannon, of the house of representatives, dashed over an embankment while running at high speed near Crawfordville, Ind., today and overturned in a ditch. Cannon was severely injured when he was thrown from his car.

He was taken to a hospital and died early Saturday morning.

Some of the New England representatives who have been fighting tooth and nail for free sides have been stirred up by the cross fire of the hideous men who have demanded that the duties on manufactured leather goods be decreased accordingly. Rep. Gardner of Massachusetts hurried to the White House today to tell the president that a reduction of duty on the class of cheap shoes made in his district would simply be ruinous to the industry. He declared that even the existing rates of 15 per cent was far too low. The trade in other districts, he added, where a higher grade of men's shoes are made, might well afford a reduction—but did not know as to that. The president was told that a conference report might be expected by Monday night. Congressional leaders brought news of Senator Crane, who is using his abilities as "the great conciliator of the senate," to bring about a settlement in favor of the president's program. The senator was an early White House caller and expects a report by late Saturday.

In discussing this matter with the president, I went so far as to say that we were willing to have a slight compromise reduction made on raw wool

if we could get a reduction in the wool goods," said the president.

The president has taken cognizance of the situation and the senators who saw him today reported that he had told him to go ahead about the reduction and that he would do the same.

The president was told that a conference report might be expected by Monday night. Congressional leaders brought news of Senator Crane, who is using his abilities as "the great conciliator of the senate," to bring about a settlement in favor of the president's program. The senator was an early White House caller and expects a report by late Saturday.

Today's game between Lowell and Fall River was postponed on account of rain. Both teams went out to Spalding park and had just started to play when the rain came down. The Fall River team went to Lawrence late this afternoon, while Lowell goes to Lynn in the morning. Lowell will play Woonsocket on Sunday and Worcester at Worcester on Monday and Tuesday.

The Fall River team was minus its clever left center, Tommy Devine, today, as Devine is laid up at his home in Lawrence Plain with a broken rib.

As the result of being struck by a pitched ball at Brockton Thursday, and what do you think?

Manager John O'Brien in the writing of his report of the injury, stated that Devine was unprepared when he struck the ball, and that he was not wearing his helmet.

Devine was struck in the ribs, breaking the fifth and sixth ribs.

According to the physician, Devine will be unable to play again for at least six weeks.

STRANGE ROMANCE

Nobleman Wants Boston Girl to Pay Him $3000 Annually

BOSTON, July 23.—It became known through court proceedings yesterday that handsome and talented Charlotte Lillian Moore, daughter of the late R. L. Moore and one of Boston's richest girls, had become entangled with an Austrian nobleman in the most unusual and romantic court proceedings.

The nobleman, and by name as plaintiff, is none other than Carl De Mel, who gives his present address as Hamburg, N. Y.

De Mel, a charming young man of 36, brings a bill in equity in the courts of this city in which he strives to force Miss Moore to keep an antenuptial agreement in which it is alleged she was to pay him several thousand dollars a year for his support out of her private income until the marriage should take place.

Miss Moore, however, although drawn into诉讼 as a result of the majority gained by the court, flatly denies the allegations of the Austrian and in a lengthy answer filed in court sets forth her side of the case.

In a nutshell she brands the Austrian as an impastor, declares she never promised to marry him and alleges that he represented himself as a wealthy nobleman when in reality he was but a messenger in the Austrian court.

Fraud is Alleged

In her answer Miss Moore says that her signature was obtained to the agreement by fraud and undue influence on the part of the plaintiff, who, having learned that she was in receipt of a considerable income from the estate of relatives and designing to cheat and defraud her, concocted a scheme to obtain her money and property, and to that end and for that purpose met her, apparently by chance, while she was traveling in California representing that he also was a tourist traveling in this country and other parts of the world, and in pursuance of this scheme the plaintiff falsely and fraud-ly represented himself to be the son of a noble Austrian family and that his mother was and has been for a long period of time a lady in waiting at the Austrian court; that he planned to wed in the diplomatic as well as the social services of the Austrian government and that his family previously possessed great wealth but through misfortune had met with financial losses so that they were then in poverty, all of which was false, was fraudulent, as the plaintiff well knew, and was intended to work upon the sympathies of the defendant.

"And the plaintiff further fraudulently represented that he was possessed of rare talent or ability, that various musical authorities had declared his musical talent to be pronounced and remarkable, that his voice if cultivated would make his fortune and put him in a position to be one of the greatest singers of the world, and to sing in grand opera, and that he needed only to have an opportunity to study under competent instructors to be found in the old world to place him in a position to which he belonged, all of which was false.

MONEY LOANED TO DE MEL

"He secured her friendship on these representations, and borrowed $6,000 in payments as follows:

"June, 1904, $2,000; January, 1905, $1,500; September, 1905, $1,800, and July, 1907, $600, which he still owes to the defendant.

"And thereafter, in further pursuance of his scheme, plaintiff falsely made prostitutes or love for the defendant and gratitude for sum obtained.

"And, in furtherance of the scheme, she was induced to visit him in Milan, Italy, and while there the plaintiff was induced to sign the agreement upon which he bound his hand.

"She denies that any marriage was ever agreed upon between the parties and that the plaintiff was represented to be a messenger in the Austrian court.

They Did Not Want to be Deported

NEW YORK, July 23.—A model battle was fought at pier 3, Brooklyn, yesterday between immigration inspectors and a band of 21 gypsies who were being deported to South America.

Engaged at the immigration commissioners' decision after they had claimed to have established that they possessed $1,500 in cash, the wanderers refused to board the steamer Verdi which was to take them back to Europe.

In the heat of the melee several children of the band were injured because their parents, who carried them, held them as shields, and in some cases pashed their Little Devils against the inspectors who were trying to drive them from a ring onto the steamer.

The little girl was still unconscious when the vessel sailed. The band was driven onto the dock where a reinforcement of longshoremen got them aboard the Verdi.

The gypsies had been under the impression that they were to be returned to Russia, their home, and when they found out that they must go back to South America, which they had just left, their rage knew no bounds.

The women fought with more fury than the men. One raced before swinging an iron camp-kettle at a man's length and brought it down with a terrible clang whenever she got within reach of a hostile head.

When the Verdi sailed her unwilling passengers were huddled astern, cursing their wounds. They did not know that in the same hull with them is $7,000,000 in gold for South American ports, baled up in kegs of $50,000 each like so much lead—the largest single shipment of gold save one, ever sent to South America.

CHARLES KENNEDY

Expected to Testify in the Sutton Case

ANNAPOLIS, July 23.—Today of the inquiry into the cause of death of Lieut. James Sutton of the United States in the shooting with Sergeant of Adjutant Dehart, the two whose cross-examination was suspended yesterday at the Statehouse, the government's witnesses say, were witnesses in the shooting and remain to be examined. The state of the defense has been that all officers or men who were present on the night of the shooting, October 19, 1908, and who have since testified, have sworn to the effect that Sutton had been shot in the back, and that he died from a bullet which had passed through his lungs.

"What were the conditions that night as to the light or darkness?" enquired Mrs. Sutton's counsel. "It was a very dark night," was the reply.

Sergeant Dehart was called and Mr. Davis resumed his cross-examination.

Mr. Davis asked the witness when he first saw Lieut. Revan and Utley on the night of the shooting.

"Just after Sutton accepted me I saw Lieut. Revan running down the road after Sutton shooting. You are under arrest," said Dehart. "I don't remember when Lieut. Utley came upon the scene."

"There are two contradictory things in your testimony," continued Mr. Davis. "You said you accompanied Lieut. Sutton to the place where the fight occurred for the purpose of getting his coat while you show that you had some knowledge of his relation to some affray when you asked him to use his coat instead of the revolver."

The witness said he went with Sutton because the Lieutenant ordered him to go and did not remember having any other reason for accompanying Sutton. He couldn't remember whether they found Sutton's coat or not. Sutton ran ahead of him, Dehart said. It was soon after that he heard the shots.

Sutton could not remember how many shots were fired, but he was certain that all had been fired before he reached the scene and saw Sutton's body. He could not remember how many or what officers were in the group about Sutton when he came up. Mr. Davis wanted to know why the Sergeant took the revolver handed him when he was out of place with the officers there and had been previously ordered away.

"I took the revolver as anyone would take an object handed to him suddenly. I suppose I was nearest to the man who had it," replied Dehart. "I didn't occur to you to say to the officer 'Sir, I am not the one to take that revolver?'"

"No sir."

"That did occur to you to throw the revolver away, didn't it?"

"Yes sir."

Dehart said he reported that night to Lieut. Utley that he had thrown away the revolver. Utley told him to go out and get it early next morning. It was on the following day that he asked Utley who gave him the revolver the night before, and Utley said he did not know, the witness testified. He did not find it next morning and Lieut. Utley afterward told him it had been found.

"Did you go down there with an idea of protecting Mr. Sutton from himself or trying to keep him out of trouble?" Major Leonard asked the witness.

"Well sir, a man running about with two revolvers certainly did not need protection," was Dehart's reply.

He added that he was down because Sutton asked him to get his car.

"Did you take the revolver from Mr. Sutton's hand?" Commander Hood asked of Mr. Dehart.

"No sir."

William Owens, the chauffeur, who drove Lieut. Sutton and his brother officers out to the scene on the night of the shooting, was called to the witness stand.

Owens told of taking Sutton, Lieut. Adams and two other officers in his automobile from Carvel Hall toward the camp.

Lieut. Adams sat on the seat with him and Sutton and the other two officers out to the rear on the night of the shooting, was called to the witness stand.

A Positive Clean-Up

For the balance of this month, step into my store and be your own salesman—pick out any end in stock—and this means that you'll pick from the finest woolens in the land. I will furnish the goods from whatever woolens you select, give you a sample of the cloth for comparison and make the suit from the same identical material you select. I will measure you and make the suit to order from your measures. And I will make the suit the way you want it made, and if it doesn't come the way you want it—make you a new garment without argument.

And by this I mean that when I take your order for a suit, the suit will fit to your satisfaction; the suit will hold its color; that the linings and trimmings will last a year or be maintained by me in new repair free of charge to you.

SUIT TO ORDER

Trousers to order $2.50

GUARANTEE POSITIVELY

Even though the price may seem all out of proportion for high-class tailoring, that the trimmings will be of the best.

I will use genuine all pure linen canvas backed by the guarantee of Goldsmith & Son, the leading trimmings house in the country.

I will use genuine haircloth woven from selected South American horse hair—28 hairs to the inch.

I will use full weight wadding, fully stayed and hand padded so as to make, when combined with the canvas and haircloth, a coat front that will always stand up.

To J. H. Lewis' Old Customers

I Have Little to Say

You who have traded with J. H. in the past 25 years know the stock. To catalog it to you will be superfluous perhaps. You know that when you paid Lewis $40 for a suit of clothes, the woolens in that suit were the finest money could buy.

To those who never had a suit made by Lewis, a further explanation would perhaps be well. Some 10 years ago I had the honor to be employed in the Lewis store as a cutter. And I want to say right here, that it was the best school I ever attended. Through my hands at that time passed thousands of yards of fine fabrics, whose style, beauty and splendid quality created an impression upon me that had its good influence in these later years.

The Lewis policy was never to haggle over price, but quality and style were closely scrutinized and had to stand every test. As I have previously stated in my ad, this week my Lowell store has about one hundred and fifty of these suits which includes shadow striped worsteds, blue serges and fine duck silk mixtures so scarce today. A great number of these styles will be placed in my doorway with their original tags attached. You are invited to see and handle them.

SENATOR CUMMINS

Wants the Duty on Manufactured Products Reduced

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Emphasizing the importance of insisting upon reductions in the duties upon manufactured as well as upon raw material, Senator Cummins of Iowa, late yesterday, made public a statement which was accepted as representing the views of at least a majority of the progressive republican senators relative to the present situation with regard to the tariff bill.

Previously Mr. Cummins had been in consultation for two hours with the president and an exchange of views had passed between Mr. Cummins and others of the 19 who voted against the tariff bill in the senate.

The pronouncement is evidently intended to meet the idea that the president and the downward revisionists would be content with free raw material.

"I endorse every word of the statement recently made by the president and earnestly hope that he will be successful in bringing the conference to his views," says Mr. Cummins, who then called attention to the fact that emphasis had been placed upon the so-called raw materials.

"I feel compelled," says Mr. Cummins, "to remind the public that neither the president's statement or our fight was so confined." He continues:

"While it is of the most importance that iron ore, oil, hides and coal be dealt with as proposed by the president, it is of still greater importance that the duties on manufactured products shall be brought down somewhere near the protective point. It will be of little advantage to the body of the people to do away with unnecessary rules on raw material if the manufacturers are permitted to enjoy the excessive duties that enable them to exact extortions profits upon the things that the people must buy and use."

Instancing the most prominent features of the senate bill which he thinks should be amended, Mr. Cummins said that those who have been contending for lower duties can afford to surrender a part of their just demands if they can, in the main, obtain the reductions which insure the people against undue prices in the chief commodities of commerce.

He then outlines his principal objections to the bill as left the senate. He says the reduction in the steel schedule generally are not sufficient, but the schedules might be accepted but for the increase on structural iron and steel.

"Structural iron and steel, the use of which is so rapidly increasing," says Mr. Cummins, "is raised from the Dingley rate of ten dollars per ton and the house rate of six dollars per ton to 45 per cent ad valorem which, at the present price of $16 per ton, an increase over the present law of $6 per ton, and over the house provision of $10 per ton."

When it is considered that the duty on steel rails is $2.50 per ton and their market price is $28 per ton, the proposed duty upon a form of steel which sells for $25 per ton is wholly indefensible. Free iron ore is a very desirable thing, but when the welfare of the consumer is taken into account it would be vastly better if a fair rate can be secured on but one of these items, to allow the duty on iron ore to go to 25 cents per ton and cut the duty on structural steel to five or six dollars per ton where it properly belongs and where it would still furnish complete protection for home producers measured by the republican standard.

In the lumber schedule, if both rough and dressed lumber are not free, as they ought to be, the house rate of $1 on rough lumber should be preserved, and the differential upon dressed lumber should begin at 25 cents per thousand and not go beyond sixty cents per thousand.

In the paper schedule the house rate of $2 per ton on print paper without the possibility of increasing it by a countervailing duty, and free wood pulp also protected against a countervailing duty should be rigidly insisted upon.

In the cotton schedule the senate increases from beginning to end should be rejected, and while I believe that there should be reductions in this schedule, the people might be willing to stand for the house rate barring, of course, the hosiery it is insisted upon.

The woolen schedule, with respect to the compensatory duties to manufacturers is manifestly wrong, and the artificial and arbitrary plan of estimating the relation between un-washed and scoured wool is grossly absurd. The wool grower is sacrificed in order to give undue protection to the worst wool manufacturer.

The whole schedule is so indefensible that a readjustment seems imperative even though to accomplish it the conference report be voted down and the bill brought before the senate again for adjustment.

"Our platform and our pledges embrace every durable commodity and we should apply the same criterion from the first to the last. It will be most unfortunate if, in trying to give relief to the rank and file of our people, we succeed only in giving manufacturers raw materials, and thus add to the over-protection which they now enjoy the further profits of cheapened production—profits which the manufacturers will probably be slow to share with the consuming public."

While Mr. Cummins expressly says that he does not undertake to represent the views of the other "progressives," it is known that most of them were afforded an opportunity to read Mr. Cummins' announcement and some of them publicly stated that it expressed the opinions of them.

He then outlines his principal objections to the bill as left the senate. He says the reduction in the steel schedule generally are not sufficient, but the schedules might be accepted but for the increase on structural iron and steel.

"Structural iron and steel, the use of which is so rapidly increasing," says Mr. Cummins, "is raised from the Dingley rate of ten dollars per ton and the house rate of six dollars per ton to 45 per cent ad valorem which, at the present price of $16 per ton, an increase over the present law of $6 per ton, and over the house provision of $10 per ton."

TIED TO A TREE

Boy Held for Stealing Two Turnips

HAVERHILL, July 23.—Joseph Pinette, 12 years old, of Dover, N. H., left this city for his home yesterday, after an experience he will not soon forget. He was arraigned in the district court yesterday on a charge of larceny, but this was not pressed after Judge Fuller had heard the story Pinette told.

The police agreed to not press when Judge Fuller remarked that the theft was trivial as only two turnips were involved.

Pinette and an older brother came to this city in search of work and as they failed to obtain any they decided to return to Dover, N. H. They were without funds and when they reached Rosemont, two miles from the city proper, they left the railroad tracks and went to a truck garden nearby on Cogswell street.

They pulled up two turnips and were eating them when they were discovered by Italians who live in the vicinity. The Italians gave chase and the younger Pinette was captured, his brother escaping and continuing on his journey to Dover.

The younger Pinette was much alarmed over the attitude of his captors. They compelled him to be seated, put his hands around a tree with his back to it. His hands were tied and then he was securely tied to the tree.

After being tied to the tree, word was sent to the police station to the effect that a burglar had been caught. Inspector Shannon, who responded, was much surprised when he visited the place and found his prisoner tied to the tree, and Pinette was much relieved when he was released and taken to the station.

After his case had been disposed of in court today Pinette hastened to return to his home in Dover, N. H.

GREAT GAIN

MADE IN TRADE WITH NON-CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Trade of the United States with its non-contiguous territory in the fiscal year 1909 exceeded that of any previous year and was more than three times as much as a decade ago. The term "non-contiguous territories" includes Alaska and all the Indian area under the control of the United States, Porto Rico, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, Guam, Midway, Tonkin, etc. While the details of the trade for June, the final month of the fiscal year are not yet at hand, sufficient information regarding the year's business is in possession of the bureau of statistics to justify the statement that the total trade with the non-contiguous territory in the fiscal year 1909 will amount to about 160 billion as compared with 50 billion in 1900. The total value of the trade of the United States with the non-contiguous territories in the fiscal year 1909, for which figures are available, amounts to 17 1/2 million dollars against 11 1/2 million in the same months of last year, indicating that the total gold received from Alaska during the fiscal year will amount to approximately 1 1/2 million dollars, or about 2,722,000,000 dollars, or 1,000,000,000 dollars worth of merchandise ready for further use in manufacturing.

Of the 21 1/2 million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to Porto Rico in the 11 months ending with May, 10 1/2 million dollars' worth was manufactures ready for consumption and a little over 1 million dollars' worth was manufacturers for further use in manufacturing.

JAIL SENTENCE THE SEWER JOB IDEAL CUTTING

Husband and Wife Accused of Larceny

WORCESTER, July 23.—Oscar Carlson, aged 23, and his wife, Alva Carlson, aged 20, were sent to the house of correction for 30 days by Judge Esty in the district court yesterday for the larceny of a shirt waist from Mrs. Daniel B. Sullivan, 63 Sumner street. After the court session Carlson was photographed and his measurements were taken for the police rogues gallery.

The couple went to Mrs. Sullivan's house Tuesday night and occupied a room in which Mrs. Sullivan had a silk shirt waist. This waist disappeared with the couple when they left yesterday morning and the case was reported to the police.

Inspector Fred P. Good got track of the couple through an employment agency as they were about to leave Worcester for North Brookfield to work. He found them at Harrington corner waiting for an electric car and asked them to accompany him to police headquarters.

On the way Mrs. Carlson said she had forgotten her purse in the employment office and asked permission to go after it. As soon as she entered the building she darted down the hallway into a dark section of the building. Inspector Good followed and caught her, and in a corner he found the silk waist, which had been torn in two.

The couple made no defense, but Carlson acknowledged that they were arrested last summer for the larceny of $70 in Bridgeport, where he was sent to jail for 10 months and his wife was put on probation.

Work On It Will be Held by Children of Rushed

Things will be humming on the sewer job in Prescott street just as soon as the cable trench machine is put in motion. It is being installed now and will be ready for business Saturday morning, if not sooner. The engine, which is situated near the entrance to Central street, has steamed up and the cable on which the big iron buckets will slide back and forth is being greased so that the buckets will run smoothly and without friction. The cable will extend from the towers at either end of the street and once in operation it will not take long to make a good showing. Supt. Putnam says that the job will be pushed through with all possible haste.

JAMES SAGER HAS PLAYED IN 506 CONSECUTIVE GAMES

SOUTH BEND, July 23.—James Sager, third baseman of the Evansville Central league team, holds a record that no other ball player probably has ever earned since the introduction of the game. Since joining the Evansville squad he has played in 506 consecutive games. He was traded by South Bend to Evansville in 1906 and has never missed a game since becoming member of the Evansville club. During the last four seasons he has never spoken harshly to an umpire, has never suffered a bruise or an injury and has never known a sick day.

Weak? Tired? Run-down?

These conditions come from overwork, a weak stomach, overtaxed nerves or feeble blood. When you feel "all in"—hardly able to drag about, no energy, no ambition, easily exhausted and can't sleep—take and note what a difference they make in your condition. The stomach is the first to feel the good effects. Food tastes good, the digestion is strengthened; bowels and bile work regularly, the blood is cleansed, and the nerves tested. The whole system responds to the tonic action of Beecham's Pills. Soon there is the buoyant feeling of returning health.

TOWN IN TEXAS

Was Practically Ruined
by a Storm

VERANO, Texas, a small town in the middle of the state, was practically ruined by a storm that came through the town on July 12. The town, which has a population of about 1,000, was completely destroyed, and many houses were washed away. The town is located in a valley, and the storm caused a great deal of damage to the buildings and homes in the area.

AWARD CONTRACTS

For Building of Grand Stands for the Auto Races

The contract for building the grand-stand, press, judges' and band stands for the automobile carnival on the boulevard was awarded last night to J. A. and E. A. Simpson, the contractors who did the work last year. Simpson's bid was $625.

The grandstand will be a more elaborate affair than that of last year. There will be a private box for President Taft and his family, while on either side of this box will be smaller boxes which will be disposed of at reasonable figures.

Work on the structural work will be started at once and will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible.

Siding for Pullman Cars

C. C. Robinson, superintendent of the southern division of the Boston & Maine, went over the same course yesterday afternoon with President Heinz, and after passing over the ground carefully stated that the company intended to build two large sidings in the vicinity of the plant for merely occupied by the Shaw Machine Co., on the opposite side of the river.

A large number of the western people who come to Lowell in special trains will make their headquarters on the train. The western trains, which will consist of sleepers and day coaches together with baggage and dining cars, will arrive in Lowell on the afternoon or evening of Sunday, Sept. 5, and will be run on one of the sidings where they will remain until the races are over. The people will eat and sleep in the cars and be right near the track at all times.

Each of the sidings will be 200 feet in length near the entrance to the pontoon bridge. Flag stations will be established at either end of the sidings and it is proposed to unload all of the passengers from the north and many through trains from the west and south at these sidings.

WIDOW DIED

THE DAY AFTER HER HUSBAND PASSED AWAY

MARLBORO, July 23.—Mrs. Emily Pender, age 27 years, wife of John Pender, who died at the Martha's Hospital yesterday from typhoid fever, died at the same place from the same disease tonight.

The couple were married eight months ago in Natick and a short time ago bought a farm in Glastonbury, a part of Stow. Finding an unoccupied place, they drank the water and both were taken down with typhoid fever and were brought to the Martha's Hospital last Sunday.

PLEASANT REUNION

OF TWO FRIENDS AFTER 40 YEARS

A very pleasant reunion occurred Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Jackson of Forest Village, when Mr. Robert Brownell of Mexico called on his old friend and chum of his early school days. This is the first time they had met for 40 years and both spent a pleasant afternoon recalling the events of their earlier days. Mr. Jackson and Mr. Brownell were near neighbors in Lodi, N. S., and until they were eight years of age were inseparable companions. Mr. Brownell is president of the Brownell Mining Co., at Silver City, Mexico, and is now on his way to complete a deal in Quebec.

EXTRAORDINARY HAIR TONIC

It Won't Grow Hair on Bald Heads Say the Makers.

Unlike all other hair restorers, Parisian Sage won't grow hair on bald heads. Neither will it grow hair on chin eggs, door knobs or hitching posts.

One claim is about as sensible as the other.

If your head is bald and you want to cover it with hair, get a wig. Parisian Sage, the quick-acting hair invigorator, is of no use to bald headed people; but for people who have thin hair, falling hair and dandruff and where the bald spot is just beginning to show, there is nothing in this wide world that will give such satisfactory results as Parisian Sage.

Most diseases of the hair and scalp are caused by a microbe commonly called a dandruff germ. (Dr. Saenger, of Paris, has proven this.) To banish dandruff, stop falling hair and prevent baldness, the microbe must be killed.

Parisian Sage, which can now be obtained at leading drugstores, is the only remedy that is absolutely certain to kill the dandruff germs.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Carter & Sherburne to drive out dandruff and stop falling hair in two weeks or money back. It stopsitching scalp in two days, and keeps the scalp cool and free from odors in warm weather.

Parisian Sage is particularly in demand by women who desire fascinating hair.

There is nothing on earth that will so quickly turn dull, faded hair into bright and luxuriant hair as Parisian Sage.

Try a bottle of Parisian Sage at Carter & Sherburne's risk. Use it for a week, and you will have no use for the ordinary tonics. Parisian Sage is delightfully perfumed, free from crease and stickiness, and a large bottle costs but 50 cents. The girl with the Autumn hair is an easy little Made in America by Giroux Mfg. HUBERT LATHAM

Will Try to Cross the English Channel

PARIS, July 23.—Hubert Latham, the aviator who attempted to cross the English channel in a flying machine and fell into the water 19 miles out from the coast of France, yesterday

awarded the contracts.

Mr. Lee said he would get busy at once to seek a conference with men he believed had been awarded the contracts.

Mr. Robinson displayed great interest in the race and said that the railroad would co-operate with the Automobile club in every way possible. He said that work on the sidings will be started as soon as the pontoon bridge is placed in position.

ECZEMA

DON'T CLOSE THE PORES OF THE SKIN AND DRIVE IT IN.

Persons afflicted with Eczema, Scrofula, Psoriasis, Ulcers, Pimples, etc., frequently have recourse to strong astringent external remedies to dry up and close the pores of the skin in order to get temporary relief, forgetting, in their anxiety, that by so doing they are forcing the poisonous germs back into the blood to reseize itself a month later in the old disease area, or on some other part of the body, in a more malignant form. How much better to help the blood throw off the impurities which cause these diseases, and get permanent relief. Blood is the most important constituent of the human body, and when impure is the underlying cause of most of our ailments, particularly skin diseases. Dr. Taylor's treatment aims to purify the blood as well as treat the skin. Guaranteed to cure. Send to our office, 1330 Arch Street, Philadelphia, for booklet. Sold by Ellingwood & Co., Lowell, Mass., and by all first class druggists.

Calais, has announced that he will make a second attempt to accomplish the daringfeat within a few days. Latham's flying machine, which is an oddly constructed monoplane, was only slightly injured in the recent flight. He took it at once to Paris, had it repaired and now intends that he can cross the channel with ease.

SENATOR BROWN

Makes Speech Defending Income Tax

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Characterizing Senator Brown's speech as "utterly ridiculous, absurd and round," the statement accented to Justice Brewer of the U. S. supreme court in his Milwaukee speech Wednesday night, to the effect that under a national income tax law states would be "taxed out of their existence." Senator Brown of Nebraska, author of the first resolution to reject the question to state legislators, voted to day against a motion of defense of such a tax, and voted better that the report be adopted in the morning session. In defense of Senator Brewer in the position of his resolution that if the national government is given the power to tax incomes, that power will be taken from the states. In no way, and in no manner, does he want the proposed amendment to the constitution giving a federal power to tax any state or other existing entity.

The tax would be laid under the present amendment, or the proposal of the committee of conference, for federal taxes on incomes, and an amendment would in no way interfere with the states' power to tax by laws of their own, so far as they exist and are valid.

In his judgment every state in the union will surely get something in its first opportunity to defend itself. Mr. Brown's speech, however, will never be forgotten, as far as the public mind is concerned, because of the skill with which he rallied the forces of reason upon the question, and determined that each state has the power to lay and collect its own taxes.

Indeed, from all over the country the word comes that even those who are opposed to taxation in incomes at present time are in favor of a national power on incomes to meet such a tax, should the mood of the government ever require it.

THE HURRICANE

Caused the Death of
Twelve Persons

HOUSTON, Texas, July 23.—The West Indian hurricane which swept from one end of the Texas gulf coast to the other Wednesday, caused丧葬 of at least 12 lives; fatal injuries of four other persons and serious wounding of 16, according to the details of the storm which began to arrive here last night. While towns were devastated and the damage through wrecking and ruining of property, will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The dead:
At Eagle Lake—Shafer.
At Bay City—Three children, names unknown.
At El Campo—A Mexican, name unknown.
At Palacios—Four, names unknown.
At Wharton—One negro.
At Pendleton—A section foreman.

At Ramsey—Farmer, name unknown. Details of the disaster in the southwestern part of the storm-swept district are still meagre, as wires were stripped from the poles and railway communication continues impossible.

The territory around Bay City seems to have been the centre of the storm, which moved southwest from Galveston, for four hours a 50-mile wind swept across the Bay City region, carrying everything before it. Yelton, a small town near Bay City, is reported demolished. Every building was either torn down or partly demolished and the water last night was in four feet of water. The residents are escaping in boats.

Cone districts in the lower coast country report that the storm was worse than that of 1900.

Eagle Lake seems to have undergone property loss nearly as great as that at Bay City.

Similar situations are reported from Texas, New Mexico and East Colorado. It is impossible as yet to estimate the total damage. Along the Galveston Bay road from Kingville to the coast the desolation was nearly complete.

At El Campo the electric light plant is wrecked, all elevators are fully damaged and almost every church is torn down. The oil field about Markham, derelicts were blown down and wells stripped of their machinery.

Six prisoners escaped from the jail at Richmond when the windows had been blown in, and while the guards were repairing the damage.

EXCURSION TO NANTASKET
Commencing Saturday the Boston & Northern Street Railway company will put on sale special excursion tickets which will be good on regular cars and boats for the round trip from Lowell to Nantasket beach at a reduced rate, Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The company is able to offer this reduced rate by an arrangement with the managements of the Nantasket Steamboat company and of Parkersburg. The trip will include free admission to Paragon park which is more interesting than ever before.

Those taking this trip will enjoy the beauty of the trolley ride to Boston, when after reaching the Union Square terminal of the Boston Elevated system they will take an Atlantic avenue elevated train to Bowes's wharf from which the boats leave for the beautiful sail down Boston Harbor to the beach. The boats leave at 20 minutes past the hour every hour.

HEIR TO FORTUNE

MAN HAS BEEN PRISONER FOR TWELVE YEARS

SHABON, Pa., July 23.—Charles Beabout, aged 24 years, for 12 years a prisoner in a garret at the home of his mother at Wheatland, near here, is one of the direct heirs to the Nancy Leibour estate of St. Louis. Beabout is an invalid.

His mother said he was confined to the room because she could not neglect her domestic duties to care for him. When found he was entirely nude with a growth of hair over his body.

Frank C. Vaughan, a St. Louis attorney, has notified the Mercer county home authorities that Beabout is one of the few heirs to the vast estate. Beabout's sight was discovered accidentally six weeks ago, when a milkman heard his cries and an investigation followed. His mind is improving rapidly.

ATTACKED JUDGE

YOUNG BLACKSMITH WAS GIVEN A THRASHING

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 23.—John Hipp, a young blacksmith, attacked Justice Jacob B. Humbird, as the latter went to a butcher shop near his home on Fayette street, but got the worst of it. Hipp had just completed a sentence of three months in the house of correction, which was imposed by Justice Humbird for being habitually disorderly. He called the justice a vile name for giving him the sentence and started in to beat him.

Justice Humbird warded off Hipp's blows and knocked him through the side door of a milk wagon that was standing along the curb. He then finished knocking his man out blackening his eyes.

Hipp was given a hearing before Justice Martin later on a charge of being habitually disorderly. He was sentenced to six months in the house of correction. His mother went on his appeal bond, and he swore off from drink. Justice Humbird's right arm was badly bruised from warding off Hipp's blows.

BABY RESTLESS AND SUFFERING

With Severe Eczema—Spread from Face All Over Scalp—Developed into a Solid Scab and Her Ears Seemed Ready to Come Off.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My baby suffered about three weeks and she was in a very bad condition. The eczema commenced on her face and spread all over the scalp. It was a solid scab and sore, and her little ears looked as though they would come off. She was very fretful and could rest but very little. She would rub her little ears and head much of the time. She looked awfully bad. We then heard of the Cuticura Remedies and I bought some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and I decided to give them a trial. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. At the time I commenced to use the Cuticura Remedies she was in a very bad fix. I began the treatment by bathing with Cuticura Soap three times a day and also used Cuticura Ointment after each bath, and it was but a few days before we began to find out she was improving. She continued to improve and in about three weeks she was entirely cured and has not been troubled with any skin disease since. She was at that time about three months old and she is now three years and two months and is a fine, fat baby girl. I will gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one who is suffering from that terrible disease and I give to Cuticura many thanks. I will gladly tell of her cure to any one who will ask or write about it." Mrs. M. M. Reynolds, Box 40, R. E. D. 2, Windsor, Va., Oct. 20 and Nov. 6, 1908.

BON MARCHE CLERKS AT NANTASKET

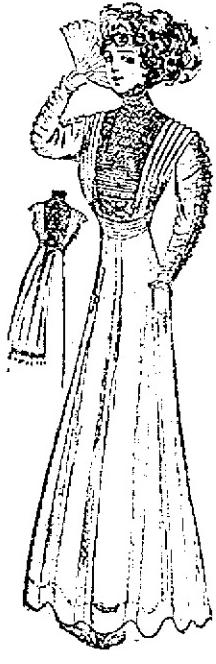

The clerks of the Bon Marche Company held their annual outing yesterday at Nantasket beach. A week ago yesterday President Charles A. McMillan of the Bon Marche department store employees at Concord Lake party and yesterday he was the honored guest of the clerks at their own outing.

So that the clerks look for is that good weather for tomorrow and they will go to the pier and fortunately yesterday the weather was excellent and the affair proved to be a success in every particular.

Yesterday at 12 o'clock more than one hundred employees of the Bon Marche boarded electric in front of the store and were taken to the Middlesex street station and there boarded special cars which were attached to the Merrimack train and the trip to Boston was made in quick style.

On arriving in Boston they took the

The Mechanics, Painters, Decorators have taken possession of our store this week and are making things hum on the work of our extensive alterations. We have been compelled to suspend business the past few days, but our doors will be re-opened

Saturday Morning at 9 O'Clock

We have prepared, commencing tomorrow morning, a GRAND WIND-UP DUMP SALE to effect a complete clearance of the balance of our stock. We will make this a sale that will break every low price record. Profits and largest portion of the cost will be sacrificed on thousands of dollars' worth of Fine, Reliable Men's and Boys' Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Shoes, to get them out of the way of the workmen and save them from the dust and dirt of the alterations. Here are a few prices which ought to draw better than a mustard plaster:

About 125 Men's Suits, mostly small sizes, that have been sold by the former concern all the way from $10 to $20. There are also in this lot

All the broken lots and odds and ends left in the Lowell One-Price Stock. Suits that have been retailed as high as $25. There are only one or two suits of a kind, but you can find all sizes in the original lot. Your choice Saturday and

$5.00 a Suit

The finest Kidderminster Hand Tailored Suits, $7.50 and new styles, and several other high class makers, sold this season at $25, $28 and $30. All will be sold at a price for Saturday.

INDIAN STUDENT

Sentenced to Death for Murder

LONDON, July 23.—Material against the Indian student who shot the night guard at a prison last night at the Holloway prison here has been filed against Sir William Gurney, the prison governor. The boy was found guilty of the death of the guard on the charge of killing him when he was serving the old Billie police constable.

But in the appeal of the boy he maintained that the trial by the magistrate, Sir John H. B. Balfour, was unfair, and that the boy was innocent.

At the close of the trial the magistrate, Sir John H. B. Balfour, said that the boy was guilty, but that he should be tried again. This was done, and the verdict of guilty was returned, and sentence to death passed in a few days.

COTTON FUTURES
NEW YORK, July 23.—The cotton market closed yesterday with a slight gain in the price of cotton, the average price for cotton being $1.10 per pound, up 10 cents from the previous day.

BIG GARBAGE JOB

of $7,000,000

BOSTON, July 23.—Politicians at City hall yesterday woke up to the fact that Mayor Hubbard cannot now make the proposed $7,000,000 gas-lighting and garbage contract which it would have been the biggest contract in the history of the city and would have wiped out the entire sanitary department.

The reason is the same as that which caused the city officials to abandon the proposed big five-year street gas lighting contract—namely, that under Section 16 of the new city charter the making of the contract would be illegal and would make Superintendent of Streets Emerson liable to a year's imprisonment or $1,000 fine.

The interpretation of the finance commission and Corporation Counsel Sullivan of the finance commission and Corporation Counsel Babson on this section of the city charter on the matter, and stated yesterday that nothing definite would be done in regard to the contract for at least a couple of days.

RANSACK BROS.

Chalifoux's Employees Hold Annual Outing

The Ransack Brothers went to Canobie Lake yesterday and conducted the place in the interest of fun, and had lots of it.

The Ransack Brothers are the employees of J. L. Chalifoux, and the day was their annual outing. Unfortunately, Mr. Chalifoux was in Canada and his sons out of town, so that they could not be present in person, but they sent word that they would be there in spirit, and if they were their spirits had a good time.

The party left the store at 12:30 on a special car and proceeded at once to Canobie. At 1:30 a full course dinner was served in the dining pavilion and there was where the real ransack act was done. After the dinner the party repaired to the ball field, where a hot ball game was played between the Crowley and Miss Anna Bourassa, Collars and Cuffs and Coats and Pants. The party returned home on their teams, representing respectively the special at a reasonable hour.

Just When You Want Them

One of the largest waist manufacturers in America found that he had 1500 dozen waists in three different styles. He was retiring from business and decided to close them out quickly; we together with one store in Boston and one store in Hartford took the entire lot.

One style is fine batiste with insertions of dainty Val. lace in back, front and sleeves. Another also of batiste has yoke of hamberg medallions set in lace. Both styles are 3-4 sleeves with tucked collar and cuffs edged with lace. They are styles we have sold in large quantities for 97c, but this lot we will offer for

The store in Boston advertised them as a big bargain at 65c.

The other style is of lawn or batiste with pin tucked yoke front and back, 3-4 sleeves with tucked collar and cuffs edged with lace, just the waist for you to take on your vacation, as it will stand many hard washings. Two years ago we sold them for $1.25, last year it was the best style we could find for 97c, now we offer them for

69c

Although the quantities are large you had better anticipate your vacation wants NOW.

LOSS IS $300,000

Heavy Damage Caused by Fire in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 23.—The factory of the New Bedford Cordage company, one of the largest makers of rope in the country, was practically destroyed by fire this morning, the damage running well into $300,000. The picker room where the fire started, the main building and the separate office buildings were gutted, only the brick walls remaining while the rope warehouse and smaller oil building were seriously damaged.

The fire started from spontaneous combustion caused by heat in the hemp used in the picker room and spread rapidly through the oil-soaked material and building. The company's private fire alarm box was sounded about 4 o'clock and it was followed immediately by an alarm from another nearby box. The company's own fire fighting organization did very effective work and the streams of water which it commanded were at first of greater power than those of the city department.

The oil about the factory made the blaze a bad one to handle but brick construction confined the flames. The factory is located at the corner of Ash and Court streets in the western part of the city.

This was the eleventh fire within 24 hours, the drivers having been kept at the pump all night by incendiary blazes in various parts of the city.

CANOBIE LAKE THEATRE

"A Night in Bohemia" is by far the best which the Canobie Comedy company has produced so far at this popular resort, and weather conditions proving favorable the audiences should be large during its run.

The comedy work of Messrs. Sherman Wads and James TenBrook is especially clever, the singing of Miss Camille Stanford and Miss Bessie Miller and the charming dancing of Miss Harriet Koch are all features which go to make the show one of unusual interest and pleasure.

The Atlas quartet is becoming exceedingly popular, and their selections meet with success at every performance.

The farce which follows the show proper is one long laugh and catches the audience just right.

Don't fail to see this fine show.

There are two performances daily at 3:15 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday evening, moving pictures and the Atlas quartet.

THEATRE VOYONS.

Though in the course of a year there are many kinds of amusements offered the people of Lowell none of them is more educational or worthy of the patronage of those who really enjoy a good show than the special Washington program at the Theatre Voyons today. These pictures, great in themselves, are shown in a way that enhances their value a great deal. Carefully prepared musical programs together with a bill of interesting pictures, form a pleasing variety and the whole strength of the theatre has been given to make this program the most notable. Hundreds have visited the theatre only to return again with their families and friends for once these pictures are seen they are sure to impress the patron very much.

BREEZY POINT.

As water will always find its level so will the greater portion of the public always patronize the amusement feature wherein they receive the most for their money, quality considered. This is true of Breezy Point, Willow Dale, for every day since the opening the attendance has been increasing and the number of pleased customers much greater. The large dancing saloon is in excellent condition, and it is sure that everyone has plenty of room and enjoyment dancing to the unknown. The music supplied by Joe Hartman is the real thing, popular, in good taste, and just suited for dancing. The surroundings of Breezy Point, its decorations and its special features make it the finest and best amusement room in this vicinity. Come out you'll be glad.

LISBON, July 23.—Prince Miguel of Braganza, eldest son of Duke Michael, the pretender to the throne of Portugal, today renounced forever his rights to the throne of Portugal in order to marry Miss Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James H. Stewart of New York. The prince's engagement to Miss Stewart was announced on July 9.

FARM PRODUCTSCharity Dept.'s Right to Exchange Them

The trading of city farm products for things required in the charity department is of more or less interest at the present time. Perhaps this matter would not have been brought to the public's attention but for the fact that Solomon Mayberry, the charity department superintendent, traded a horse for a few loads of wood. This negotiation leaked out and things were said; that is, the right of Mr. Mayberry's action was questioned.

James Gilbert Hill was city solicitor at the time and he was asked for an opinion as to the charity department's right in the matter of exchanging farm products and he gave as his opinion that the department might exchange, for proper value, any product of the farm.

The horse wasn't a product of the farm and the action of Supt. Mayberry was not warranted. Just because the horse was not a product of the farm, however, does not mean that live stock shall not be considered a product of the farm.

Some very fine little pigs are raised at the farm and if Mr. Mayberry should take it into his head that in order to rid the farm of brown-tail moths, it would be necessary to engage the services of a foreign parasite, it would be all right, under the new custom, for him to trade a few pigs for a bunch of parasites.

White Sept. Mayberry does not doubt the wisdom of Mr. Hill's opinion, but in order to be on the safe side he has asked City Solicitor Duncan what he thinks about it and he wants him to put his opinion in writing. In a few days, perhaps, we may hear from Mr. Duncan, who, at the present time, is busily engaged in reading the evidence in the police board hearing in order that he may acquaint himself with it before the date set for a review of the mayor's findings.

PERSONALS

Rev. O. S. C. Wallace, of Baltimore, Md., formerly of this city, is in town for a few days renewing old acquaintances.

ENGINEER DROWNED

NEW BEDFORD, July 23.—Hans Peterkenberg, engineer of the Phillips & Read coal gas company, drowned, last evening, at 10 P. M. in this city, when an oil well he was drilling at 145 feet, collapsed. He had been working on the well for some time and the body was not recovered. He was 57 years old, a native of Germany, married, and lived at 222 Richmond street, Philadelphia.

YOUNG VETERANLetter Carrier Adams Observes Birthday

George L. Adams, who today is observing his 60th birthday at his home in this city, is one of the youngest members of Grand Army posts in this section. He has been a letter carrier for 27 years. He was born in Biddeford, Me., and before his appointment as a letter carrier was an drummer boy. I could not drum very well and everybody appeared to be too busy to teach me. After three months' trial I gave it up and carried a musket until we were mustered out in Portland, Me., Sept. 1, 1865.

My record as a soldier was not as brilliant as that of my comrades from other states, but I obeyed orders and I am proud of being a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

He is a vigorous man for his age and has a pleasant home at 21 June street, Centralville. In all kinds of weather conditions on his route have always found him a hustler in the delivery of their mail.

Mr. Adams' father and two brothers served in the army in the Civil War. Although very young he was determined to be enrolled as a soldier and he describes his experience as follows:

"When the 1st Maine Infantry was formed my oldest brother, then 17 years old, enlisted and served until the expiration of his term. He then re-enlisted and served in the 10th Maine Infantry until the members were mustered out. His last enlistment was in the 1st Maine cavalry, in which he served until the close of the war."

"My father enlisted in the 7th Maine Infantry and served until the battle of Malvern Hill. He was dangerously wounded and after being brought home died Sept. 15, 1862. While in winter quarters in Maryland in the winter of 1861, my father sent for my brother, then 14 years old. The men of the regiment became so attached to my second oldest brother that he enlisted as a drummer boy in the 7th Maine regiment and was mustered out in August, 1865.

"I was the youngest member of the family and not very large for my age. I was not considered old or strong enough for any service in the 17th and 22d Maine regiments. I ran away from home and walked from Lewiston to Portland and went to a recruiting office.

"I remained with the men in camp and went to Galloups island, Boston harbor. After going with the men later to Alexandria, Va., I returned to Maine in October, 1863. I thought all that was necessary to tell the rest.
